

words and music
by
Joel Justin

Down

She went down to the boarder to see her ailing mother she had some kind of demon sitting on her shoulder
she went down down down
all the way to the bottom
she went down down down
took her drugs but she fought them
and I did nothing

I can't escape the feeling should have done something sooner now I'm filled with anger forgive me mother
she went down down down
got herself a sandwich
she went down down down
found a rope to hang with
and I did nothing

I closed my eyes
while you waved good-bye still I question myself why I closed my eyes

she went down to the corner to see her f'd up father he had some kind of story made her feel better
she went down down down
all the way to the bottom
she went down down down
took her drugs but she fought them
and I did nothing
and I did nothing.